of the great exodus, in 1975. Sure were a lot of crying Pu-yings when they said we were leaving. I felt so sorry for those people, wondered how they were gonna make it after we left. Thanks for the memories. I will certainly bookmark your site.

Comments: Sawadee,kuhn sabadee lou, man does this site bring back memories, hard work, good and bad. I arrived in Korat, coming from Yakota AB in Japan, in Sept 66 I can still remember how hot it was, compared to Japan. I was a Jet engine man on the 105`s, worked alot on trim pad at the end of the runway on the right side. Still remember seeing some F-105`s loaded to the hilt not making it, Ejecting, and then all hell breaking loose. There are several guys I remember, but one sticks out the most, Jimmy Swenson, my best drinking bud!!! Would like to hear from anyone who was there at that time.
sawadee until then.

Their names were on the back of an old photo and in the picture they are standing near some type of satellite or radar dish, so they could have worked in that group. We are not sure if the photo was taken in Korat or Takli, but the time frame would be 1967 - 1968. Also for those interested there is a Korat group website in the Yahoo groups, they would be glad to hear from you. I would appreciate any info. Thank you. D.K.

Go to Thailand, go to Korat, (nakhon ratchasima) remember northeast of Bangkok (Krungthep on Goggle Earth). Zoom into Nakhon Ratchasima. This is newer sat. pics. and very detailed. As your zooming into city you will see runways and base. Zoom into base. I could see my old barracks, hut on flightline, post office, Thai resturant etc. Go downtown and you can still see many of the same buildings that were there 30 years ago. Have fun.

Prostate cancer is one of the many cancers related to Agent Orange and I had it a yr ago. Cancer free now but the VA denied my claim saying we in Korat were not exposed to Agent Orange. Please remember to get a simple blood test called a PSA to detect prostate cancer. It could save your life!!!

Comments: I have rediscovered this site. Found it back in '99 and then lost it. A lot has been added since I last visited.

I was stationed in Korat 67-68

My job wasn't quite as "glamorous" as most here. I was in the 6th Aerial Port Sq. Det. 3. I was usually found loading and unloading the freight from the C-130s and C-141s. Another job of mine was greeting the new arrivals and driving them back to the terminal in the bus. If you came into Korat or left Korat from Aug. 67 to Aug. 68, you might have seen me.

I was there when Air Force 1 with LBJ landed there briefly.

I have some great memories but like a lot of folks, I wouldn't take a million dollars for the trip but I wouldn't pay two cents to take it again.

I have a scanner now so I'll round up my photos and try to add them to this great collection.

My claim for disability for prostate cancer also disapproved because did not physically put a foot in Vietnam. Winds must have blown in another direction before reaching us at Korat. Comments: I was at Korat Aug 72 to Aug 73. I worked in Target Intelligence in Fort Apache. I spent time in the Army Reserve in the Infantry (1/314 Mech) and the West Virginia Air National Guard. I did a second enlist in the USAF from 1981 to 1985 in Civil Engineering. I rejoined the West Virginia Air Guard and spent the remaining years in air cargo in the 167AW, Martinsburg WV. I retired with 30 years of service in Feb 2005 as a MSgt. A lot of good memories from everywhere that I've been.

Comments: Stationed at Korat in 1968-69. Worked as a Security Police Investigator, out of the Chief of Security Police bldg, right behind the BX. Does anyone remember the MSA off base blowing up, or the time that the Security Police gate guard shot and killed a Thai husband who had caught a cab driver messing with his wife. He chased him around the gate with a knife and started stabbing him. The gate guard after getting his weapon and loading it, shot the husband and saved the cab drivers life. The Thai authoritys said the cab drivers was no good and deserved to die. Oh well cant win them all. Was stationed prior to Korat at Ubon, Tan Son Nhut, and Don Muang, besides going through mortar and ground attacks in Nam. Korat holds more memories both good and bad. I enjoyed my tour in Korat the best of my four in SE Asia. A lot of Heros flew out of Korat and did not return. may they rest in peace and we shall never forget them.

Comments: I am looking for members of the 56th ARS at Korat 1972-1973. I flew as an photographer with them on HC-130 missions into Vietnam. I am trying to find the crew who I flew with in Feb or March of 1973 over the South China Sea looking for a stranded Chinese ship. We had to divert in to Tan San Nhut Vietnam for fuel on prior to returning to Korat. Working on a claim with the VA and need more support of having set foot in Vietnam. Thanks.
